Dirt Is Offered as City Business

"It's a dirty business," such must be the thoughts of the City of Torrance as the council announced it has directed the surplus dirt derived from the creation of the 25-acre sump in the Waleria area, be offered for sale to the public. The sump, to be dug where the "Waleria Lake" stands during rainy seasons, is part of the county flood control project, which will be completed before construction of homes begins in that area. There will be approximately 2,250,000 cubic yards of material available at nominal costs under conditions issued by the council, it was announced. Conditions specify that an operator or trucking company haul from the site, and have a business license in the city. Also, a permit is required from city engineering office.

EVELYN'S YARDAGE SHOP

Summer's here and the children are in need of lots of cool, cotton playclothes to keep them clean and comfortable. The nicest, most durable playclothes are those made at home, but for busy mothers Irene Saddler at Evelyn's Yardage Shop 23641 Arlington, has made a collection of playclothes for children from tots to teens. Mrs. Saddler's sportswear for children are of excellent quality, and very reasonably priced. In addition to playclothes for the children, Mrs. Saddler has created sportswear, suits and dresses for mother, too. She will sew anything you wish to order, and does alterations with a fine, professional finish. In her shop she has stocked yardage in imported and domestic fabrics, and all the notions you need for your sewing. She has smart Simplicity Patterns. Samples for custom-made draperies are on hand, as well as some ready-made. Mrs. Saddler has stocked a line of greeting cards, and has opened a subpostoffice just for your convenience. There is drive-in parking right in front of the shop, so stop in today at Evelyn's Yardage Shop, 23641 Arlington Avenue at 237th St., or call Mrs. Saddler at DA 5-0400.
